ORDER:

In the G.O. cited the Government have ordered that Co-operative Building Societies should obtain the advice of the Director of Town Planning in regard to the layout of the site and the adoption of the designs for the buildings wherever a such societies propose to build on compact blocks. The question has been raised whether any recovery should be made from the Co-operative Societies towards the cost of journeys performed by the Officers of the Town Planning Department in connection with the preparation of layout plan etc., for them. The Government direct that assistance by the Town Planning Department to these Societies should be free of cost and that no recovery need be effected from them towards cost of travelling allowance for journeys performed by these Officers in connection with the preparation of layout plan etc.
